FOURTEENTH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Saturday,
December 16, 2023

“Learned Institutions ought to be favorite objects with every free people. They throw that light over the public mind which is the best security against crafty and dangerous encroachments on the public liberty.”

—James Madison

in a letter to William T. Barry, 4 Aug. 1822, DLC: Madison Papers

PLEASE NOTE: Errors will occur in the listings of candidates for graduation. Because of the time required for printing the program, the listings may contain names of persons who will not receive a degree at this time and also may omit the names of a few persons who will receive degrees. These errors are unavoidable.

A Message from the President of JMU

WELCOME TO THE DECEMBER
COMMENCEMENT OF JAMES MADISON UNIVERSITY.

Congratulations to each of our graduates! Today marks the culmination of years of hard work and perseverance to get to this moment. I am excited to celebrate this achievement with you!

Today is also a day of celebration for those who have contributed to your success. You have had support along your journey from many people including your family, friends, classmates, and the dedicated faculty and staff who have mentored and guided you along the way. Make sure you take the time to thank them for all they have done to help you reach this important milestone in your lives.

Here at James Madison University, we are committed to preparing graduates to be educated and enlightened citizens who lead productive and meaningful lives. In addition to the expertise you gained in the classroom, we hope your education has prepared you to be a thoughtful, active, and informed contributor to society. Our world needs you to bridge divides, actively listen to your neighbors, exchange solutions, and explore new ideas. Your education does not end when you cross this stage, but instead we have prepared you to be a lifelong learner. So, find ways to explore new things and keep your love of knowledge alive.

Today you join the ranks of over 152,000 alumni of James Madison University. You are in distinguished company, and you will forever be a Duke. Please stay in contact with the university and keep your connection to Madison alive. Maintain relationships with faculty, read Madison Magazine, and keep up to date by visiting the website or following the official JMU social media channels. I hope you will return to campus for university events.

Congratulations again on your graduation. I wish you the best in all your future endeavors.

Jonathan R. Alger

The official seal of James Madison University is based upon the baronial 13th-century coat of arms of the Madison family. The shape of the shield signifies its historic periods and the symbols are original. The mantling and insignia are black upon a silver shield with two black chevrons, each charged with a golden star. The torch in the crest position signifies enlightenment, and the motto, "Knowledge is Liberty," is derived from quotations by James Madison.

HONORING

James Madison

James Madison University is the only university named for James Madison, the Father of the U.S. Constitution and fourth president of the United States. In many ways the connection to Mr. Madison's legacy is much deeper than the name only. As we celebrate commencement, it is important for us to bring Mr. Madison to life for our university community. Acknowledging Madison is not intended as a history lesson. We believe that understanding Madison and his achievements is understanding liberty and its foundations. If each graduate can leave this university with that awareness crowning their outstanding JMU education, then liberty can be multiplied wherever they may go. James Madison University will proudly send nearly 4,500 agents of liberty and social harmony to the Commonwealth of Virginia and throughout the world.

FOUNDING JAMES MADISON UNIVERSITY

James Madison University was founded on March 14, 1908, when Virginia Gov. Claude A. Swanson signed legislation creating the State Normal and Industrial School for Women at Harrisonburg. Early in the 20th century, the General Assembly, responding to a growing interest in public higher education in Virginia, authorized the establishment of a new normal school for the education of women teachers. (“Normal” schools were so named because they were supposed to set the standard — or “norm” — for excellence.)

The idea of a new college was highly attractive to communities throughout the commonwealth. There was widespread competition in the state with 28 cities and towns making a case to be the site for the new school. State Sen. George B. Keezell and Del. P.B.F. Good of Rockingham County led the efforts for Harrisonburg in the State Senate and House of Delegates. The school began classes on Sept. 30, 1909, with an enrollment of 150 students and 15 faculty members in two buildings on a 50-acre campus. Today’s James Madison University has over 22,000 students, more than 3,800 faculty and staff, and a 785-acre campus with more than 130 buildings.

1908

The University Chain of Office, Medallion and Ceremonial Mace

THE CHAIN OF OFFICE recognizes the authority granted to the president by the JMU Board of Visitors and the Commonwealth of Virginia to confer degrees and lead the university. The chain and medallion were created in 1999 by Ronald J. Wyanko, retired professor of art and art history. Creation of the institutional chain and medallion was made possible through a gift from the JMU Parents Council. The chain of office is made of sterling silver and two gems — a golden citrine and a purple amethyst — reflecting JMU’s school colors. One medallion is textured like bluestone to symbolize the older buildings on JMU’s campus. The other medallion features a brick texture to reflect the university’s other buildings. The university medallion that hangs from the chain features the seal of James Madison University, the university’s name and the date of its founding, 1908.

THE MACE has been used in ceremonial processions as an ensign of authority. It is carried by the marshal of the JMU Faculty Senate during all formal university processions. Funds for the mace were donated by the JMU Class of 1943. Commissioned by the JMU Faculty Senate, the mace was created by Ronald J. Wyanko, retired professor of art and art history, and first used in 1979. The mace is made of sterling silver, 14 karat gold, rosewood, and ebony. The upper node of the mace is textured to symbolize the blue limestone. The lower node represents the brick used on other buildings. The JMU crest is at the top of the mace. There are five ebony designs around the main node of the mace: President James Madison, the Seal of the Commonwealth of Virginia, a book representing the search for knowledge, the flame of eternal truth, and Wilson Hall representing the JMU campus.

TRADITION OF THE ### • ACADEMIC COSTUME •

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME of cap and gown worn by the faculty and students in today’s commencement had its origin in the universities of the Middle Ages. The sleeves of the gown indicate the degree held by the wearer. Closed, pointed sleeves are used for the bachelor’s gown; oblong sleeves, open at the wrist, for the master’s gown; and bell-shaped sleeves, with three velvet bars, for the doctor’s gown. For the doctoral degree, the gown has full-length velvet panels in front, either black or of a color symbolizing the wearer’s field of learning. The length of the hood also varies with the degree; the longer the hood, the more advanced the degree. The lining of the hood carries the colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

HONOR CORDS AND STOLES

Graduates are permitted to wear cords, stoles, medals, and pins on their commencement gowns. These accessories typically identify students who have earned academic honors, completed university honors curriculums; or held membership in honor societies. The popularity of this practice has led other campus organizations to wear cords and/or stoles.

THE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

JENNIFER PARK STOUT ('98)

Jennifer Park Stout is the Vice President of Global Public Policy for Snap Inc., maker of the technology application, Snapchat. In this role, she oversees internal policy development, policy engagement with governments, safety outreach, and social impact partnerships at Snap.

Jennifer spent nearly two decades in the U.S. government serving in a variety of roles including as Deputy Chief of Staff to Secretary of State John F. Kerry, Special Assistant to President Barack Obama in the White House Office of Legislative Affairs, Chief of Staff to the Under Secretary of State for Public Diplomacy and Public Affairs, and Deputy Assistant Secretary in the Bureau of East Asian and Pacific Affairs at the State Department.

Earlier in her career, Jennifer spent 11 years on Capitol Hill working for a number of Members of Congress including then-Senator Joseph Biden, Senator Patrick Leahy, Senator Jim Webb, and Representative James Moran.

Jennifer holds a M.A. in International Affairs from George Washington University and a B.A. from James Madison University.

THE MARSHALS IN OUR CEREMONY are represented by JMU students who are part of the Centennial Scholars Program or are a First-Generation Student.

The Centennial Scholars Program provides financial assistance and a multi-level academic support network to retain eligible under-represented students. We believe that qualified and deserving Virginia students who are not able to finance the cost of attending college should have the opportunity to graduate from a higher-education institution. In addition, we feel a holistic support system is essential to provide assistance and help students grow throughout their undergraduate careers.

JMU defines "first-generation" as a student whose parent(s) or guardian(s) did not graduate from a four-year institution. However, the Reddix Center welcomes any student with limited prior exposure to or knowledge of the college experience. Currently, about 12% of the JMU undergraduate population is considered first-generation. First-Generation Student Success programs work to advocate for and provide resources to first-generation students attending JMU. We offer networking opportunities, academic workshops, study abroad programs and a space for first-gen students to study, rest, and collaborate.

Malcolm Allen ('25) - Major: Public Administration, Centennial Scholar

Kelvin Braxton Jr. ('24) - Major: Communications, Centennial Scholar

Devyn Sweeney ('26) - Major: Elementary Education, Centennial Scholar & First-Generation Student

The JMU Graduate School has a rich history of offering high-quality programs to serve its student body. Classes were first offered in cooperation with the University of Virginia in 1951. Initial graduate courses offered specialized teacher education programs, and the State Board of Education authorized the university to offer programs leading to the Master of Science in Education degree in 1954. The first online graduate degree program was established in 1997, and the first doctoral program in 2002. JMU now offers 29 master's degree programs leading to 53 different areas of focus, 1 Educational Specialist degree and 8 doctoral degree programs. Graduate programs are offered in each of the seven academic colleges within the university.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

The Graduate School of James Madison University was established in 1954. The image of Mr. Madison's Temple exemplifies his intelligence, his love of the classics, natural beauty, and the useful and practical ways of men. The civic architecture, reminiscent of the ancient republic of Rome, was chosen by James Madison to symbolize his vision for the new American republic. Madison's quote that "Knowledge will forever govern ignorance; and a people who mean to be their own governors, must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives" is at the heart of graduate education.

Dukes from Day One. Alumni for Life.

Congratulations, Class of 2023! You've heard it since your first days on campus: Dukes from Day One, Alumni for Life.

Today you join a network of 160,000 alumni who support one another long after graduation. We are here to hold the door open for you—whether you are moving to a new city, embarking on a new job, still on the job-hunt, heading back to school or are serving our country. The JMU network of alumni is strong, and we are here to support you.

You have been a student for the majority of your life and you've done that well. So how do you become a successful alum?

- Connect in person at an alumni chapter near you.
- Connect online by joining our LinkedIn group.
- Cheer on the Dukes and wear purple on Fridays!
- Keep in touch with your favorite professor!
- Update your contact information if you change jobs, address or email.
- Read the Madison Update.

JMU ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

- Visit campus: volunteer back in the classroom, attend a home game, come for your reunions, and bring your JMU friends and classmates.
- Support your alma mater on Giving Day so you too can hold the door open for the students following behind you.

I am so grateful for the many students and alumni I have met along the way and so proud to add you to the JMU Alumni Family today.

Congratulations and Go Dukes!

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

The focal point of the flag is a globe in motion, propelled by energy as suggested by the design around it. The facets of the globe symbolize the complex and inter-connected aspects of the global business environment and the many disciplines taught within the College of Business. The energy and movement portrayed symbolize the college's influence and impact through preparing students to engage with the business world as principled leaders and professionals. Use of the academic color for business as the background anchors all in the context of business education.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, UNIVERSITY STUDIES, and THE SCHOOL OF PROFESSIONAL AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

The bars on the lower left indicate the various roads leading to JMU. The bars toward the right edge represent the many avenues available to students graduating from the College of Education. The unbroken circle portrays education as the link between who we were and who we have become. The bars at the top and bottom of the banner symbolize lifelong learning.

The mission of University Studies is to coordinate and support campus-wide endeavors that enhance intellectual development and foster the enlightened citizenship of all undergraduates. The outreaching rays of the flag symbolize the academic projects we coordinate, which encompass the JMU campus as a whole. The scroll design, entwined throughout the University Studies name, symbolizes University Studies' role as an umbrella organization supporting interdisciplinary academic programs that intersect multiple departments and colleges.

The School of Professional & Continuing Education advances JMU's vision by responding to individual, business, and community needs through transformative educational programs and experiences. The fountain symbolizes the endless knowledge that springs forth from our students into the communities where they live, work, and play. The colors of purple and gold embrace our alignment with the university. The range in shades celebrate the array of students we serve and the continuum of learning we engage with them over a lifetime.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH AND BEHAVIORAL STUDIES

The College of Health and Behavioral Studies logo represents human figures that are interdependent, balanced, and dynamic. The image is intentionally abstract, which encourages complex interpretations that embody many of the characteristics of CHBS. The college develops interprofessional perspectives that promote collaboration and teamwork across disciplines. The fluid circular pattern reflects responsiveness to changing societal needs achieved through scientific inquiry and the development of effective practice. Raised arms bring to mind CHBS's focus on physical, mental, and social well-being.

COLLEGE OF INTEGRATED SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

The Möbius strip is the symbol of the College of Integrated Science and Engineering. Its single side signifies how a variety of perspectives, both technical and non-technical, come together to help solve complicated problems. The superimposed globe represents the many scales at which we work—from local to global—and the pixilation of the continents highlights the importance of computing to the college. The colors of the flag symbolize the college's focus on sustainability.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

Developed in 2018, the CSM logo reflects the collaborative nature across the natural and physical sciences. The colors are drawn from the visible electromagnetic spectrum and represent the science and mathematics disciplines in the college, and the shape mirrors the dynamic, rapid pace of the discovery and progress that happens here. New ideas are sparked where the segments of the “wave” of innovation meet.

JAMES MADISON UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF VISUAL AND PERFORMING ARTS

The College of Visual and Performing Arts flag features a graphic formed from the letters ARTS representing the intertwined nature of the visual and performing arts. The color purple—symbolizing creativity, wisdom and innovation—also anchors the college within the proud JMU tradition of excellence. Silver, a precious metal that reflects visions of the world, is also chromatically the balance point between black and white, reminding us that the creative arts give a voice to many perspectives.

PHI BETA KAPPA HONOR SOCIETY

PHI BETA KAPPA is the oldest academic honor society in America, and is a leading advocate for the liberal arts and sciences. The James Madison University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was established in Spring 2010 as the Xi of Virginia chapter. To be eligible for membership, students must meet these conditions: high academic achievement, a liberal arts and sciences major, demonstrated knowledge of college-level mathematics and foreign language through the intermediate level, and at least 90 credit hours in liberal arts and sciences course work.

ARMY ROTC

THE JAMES MADISON UNIVERSITY ARMY ROTC DUKE BATTALION mission is to recruit, develop, educate and provide quality leadership training, practical hands-on experience, and Army values-based character development in order to commission agile and adaptive leaders to serve as the future officer leadership in the Army, Army Reserve, or Army National Guard. Additionally, it is our mission to motivate young people through caring leadership to be better citizens committed to lifelong service of the community and nation. Commissioned as Second Lieutenant US Army through James Madison University ROTC Program are:

Jordan Elyse Brendlinger

William Han

AIR FORCE ROTC

U.S. AIR FORCE

FOLLOWING GRADUATION, Air Force ROTC's Detachment 890 will proudly commission its seniors. Detachment 890 is comprised of James Madison University, Liberty University, Piedmont Valley Community College, and The University of Virginia, the host school. Their commissioning marks the transition from cadets to Air Force officers. As they enter active duty, the JMU cadets represent the various career opportunities within the Air Force. These career fields include pilot, intelligence officer, nurse, weather officer, space officer, and force support. Their time as cadets has prepared them with the leadership experience for this exciting time!

Honors College Graduates

STUDENTS GRADUATING FROM THE HONORS COLLEGE have completed a capstone project that demonstrates considerable knowledge in a field of study, a discipline, or an area of cross or interdisciplinary activity. For Honors Scholar students, the project is the culmination of a multi-year learning experience facilitated by faculty advisers and readers in a declared major or minor. All students have developed scholarly projects that reflect substantial research or creative work, imagination, originality and craftsmanship.
